2012 Safety Directory

Updated 01/24/2012

If you could save money, improve productivity, and increase your employee's morale, would you? The Chamber Safety Council offers you the opportunity to network with other area companies as well as educational opportunities to do just that.

According to OSHA, businesses spend approximately $170 billion dollars on costs associated with occupational injuries and illnesses. But progressive companies that establish safety and health management systems can reduce their injury and illness costs by 20 to 40 percent. In today's business environment, these costs can be the difference between operating in the black and running in the red. Injuries and illnesses increase workers' compensation and retraining costs, absenteeism, and can sometimes lead to faulty product. They can also decrease productivity, morale, and profits. Businesses can operate more efficiently when they implement effective safety and health management systems.

So, if you want to begin to save money, improve productivity, and increase your employees morale, plan to attend one of the monthly Safety Forums. What is a Safety Forum? It is a meeting held at an area Chamber member establishment along with a tour of their facility. The host company gets a chance to pick the topic for the meeting. After the tour, there is an informal discussion on the topic. So if you would like to see what the businesses in our area are doing to help reduce these costs, come join us at our next Safety Forum.

If you have a Safety-related question you think The Chamber Safety Council may be able to assist you with, please email Larry Lang, Safety Council Chair, at llang@jagemann.com. Please be sure to add "Safety Question" to the subject line.
